THE UNCERTAIN

Jedsada Tangtrakulwong

February 1 – March 31, 2019

Nova Contemporary proudly present 'The Uncertain' by Thai artist Jedsada Tangtrakulwong. The artist is well-known in his site-specific and installations. Most of his installations integrate with the architectural structures in the space, thus encouraging viewers to start noticing the unique qualities of architectural features and to initiate them in exploring and appreciating the beauty of architectural details in other buildings.

When "planning" is inapplicable to nature, one could only look forward and wait for natural phenomena to happen. In this exhibition "The Uncertain", Bangkok's daily weather is pivotal in determining the artworks displayed in the gallery. The works shown on a mostly cloudy day will differ from the ones exhibited on a mostly sunny day. Not being able to see all of them in only one visit, the viewer is drawn to return on another day with a different weather.
